Williams combines fantasy tropes believably with nanotech, bleeding-edge infotech speculation, classic smashing-planets space opera, and intriguingly human, or possibly post-human characters along with a fast-moving plot and a quirky sense of humor in a melange thats cosmological, theological, ontological, comic, and thoroughly entertaining.---S.M. StirlingThe mysterious swordsman Aristide wanders the multiverse with his talking cat Bitsy, both of them in search of the implied spaces, the accidents of architecture in a world that is itself artificial and created by a supreme intelligence.
